Parent Bulletin

Dear families,

Whether you were relaxing or hard at work, I hope you and your family enjoyed the Half Term break. The award for the most active should probably go to the Year 12 Gold DofE groups who, following a day of training, paddled their canoes the nearly 40 miles from Lechlade to Abingdon, camping over two nights on their way. We're glad they made it back safe and well – and mostly dry!

With exams in full swing for Year 11 and 13, this week has been as busy as any other and I was particularly impressed with the 60 students who spent time after school to complete their training to become Sports Leaders. I can't wait to see them put their training into action helping to run primary sports events over the summer term including our Primary transition day on 26th June when we will invite all the Year 6s who will be joining us in September to experience their first full day at JMS.

This weekend, I am very grateful to those staff who are heading to the Welsh Farm for a 'Spring clean' and preparation, making sure everything is ready for our first Year 8 visitors at the end of the month. We have a busy term ahead and we'll be sure to keep you updated.

Have a good weekend.

Best wishes.

British Science Week

Back in March all year 7 students celebrated British Science Week by completing a project day, where they had to work in groups and come up with a sustainable solution business idea. The day involved year 7 students learning about sustainability and how to develop a business idea. The students came up with amazing sustainable business ideas, such as sustainable fashion, clean up robots and recycled plastics. A big well done to all our year 7 students who took part in the British Science Week Sustainable Solutions day. Your teachers had such a great day working with you and hearing your passion for sustainability and business ideas. Each student who completed the project day has gained a CREST award which is a nationally recognized scheme, and their certificate has arrived and will be given out by their form tutor over the coming week.
